Our Heritage

Douglas Willis began as a family butcher's built on quality produce, skilled preparation and warm service - values that still define everything we do today.

What started in our butcher shops and farms has grown into a dedicated events catering team delivering weddings South Wales and surrounding areas.

Because we source and prepare much of our produce ourselves, quality is never an afterthought. From carefully selected Welsh meat and seasonal ingredients to experienced chefs and front-of-house staff, every part of your day is handled with care.

We know that great wedding catering is about more than food alone - it's about timing, atmosphere, service and creating an experience your guests remember long after the day is over.

Your Wedding Styles and Food Offering

No two weddings are the same, which is why every menu and service style is built around the atmosphere you want to create.

WEDDING BREAKFASTS

Elegant plated dining designed around exceptional ingredients and seamless service.

SHARING & INFORMAL DINING

Relaxed feasting menus, BBQs, hog roasts and sharing-style dining for contemporary celebrations.

CANAPÉS & DRINKS RECEPTIONS

Elegant bite-sized dishes and polished drinks service to welcome guests and begin the celebration.

EVENING FOOD

Relaxed late-evening favourites to keep guests celebrating long into the night.

BESPOKE WEDDINGS

Tailored menus designed around your guests, traditions and vision for the day.

We've helped couples add personality and theatre to their wedding food - from whole ribs of beef served at the table with chef's hats and aprons for a nominated 'table butcher', to late-night smash burgers and chilli-loaded fries for guests later in the evening. Whatever style of celebration you're planning, we'll work with you to create food that feels memorable, relaxed and completely personal to your day.

Douglas Willis Catering were fantastic! We asked them to provide a selection of pies and pasties for our wedding. They offered a variety of options for us to choose from, they provided the exact number of each variation, they delivered them warm exactly on time at the event, and all of the food was absolutely delicious. Our guests loved them! If you want a no-nonsense, excellent quality guaranteed service, I highly recommend Lisa and Douglas Willis Catering.

More Than Catering

Planning a wedding comes with lots of decisions, timelines and moving parts - our job is to make the catering one of the easiest parts of the process.

From your first conversation with us through to final service on the day, our experienced team works closely with couples, venues and suppliers to ensure everything runs smoothly behind the scenes.

Alongside the food itself, we can support the wider running of your day with experienced front-of-house staff, drinks service, catering equipment and tableware.

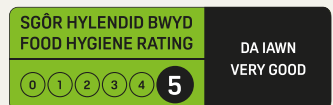

Our role is simple: to ensure the food, service, and hospitality feel effortless from start to finish.
